Website Development

Exemplar Digital Marketing focuses on designing websites that meet your specific objectives. A key aspect of our website development is integrating the design with the client's overall marketing efforts. Exemplar applies our business expertise in strategy, market analysis, content and design in developing effective websites that are professional-looking and bring results. We design sites specifically tailored to your chosen target markets and to best represent your firm's unique selling points.

"The website has generated very favorable responses. I really like the looks, content that you wrote, and how easy it is to navigate. Excellent job!"

Some of our clients want highly creative designs that stand out in the marketplace, while others want a conservative look. Other clients seek to gain significant new business through having a website, while others use it as primarily a client relations vehicle. Most firms appreciate having a design that complements existing corporate materials, so that there is consistency for branding and image building purposes. We discuss these and other options with each client at the outset of the design process. Exemplar's design services include:

- Developing an entirely new website (desktop and mobile responsive)
- Fixing your current website, including navigation improvements, enhanced graphics, new photos, and rewriting/updating the content.
- User-generated content: Whether your desire is for blogs, webinars or other interactive content, we can help.
- Clients-only privacy: We offer capabilities to help your clients access and send sensitive information in a secure structure, such as documents and billing and payment systems.
- Social media campaigns, including LinkedIn, Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, Pinterest, YouTube and other platforms that suit your objectives.
- Search engine optimization integration

Content Development & Copywriting

Some website projects and social media campaigns sit on the shelf for years, literally, because no one at the firm/company is able to write the content. They may have even hired outside copywriters but were disappointed in the lack of real-world business expertise, which was evident in the sorely-lacking content that was meant to describe the firm/company and their targeted market. This is where Exemplar Digital Marketing adds tremendous value: We interview your personnel, research and write content that represents your business in a way that many owners often cannot.

Websites, Social Media, E-Communication

Furthermore, content is key for an effective website and internet presence. Your image is directly impacted by the quality of writing skills displayed, whether you are a service-based firm or any business concerned with a professional presentation.

Of course, Exemplar applies these same skills in social media and e-communication campaigns. Clear and effective communication is valued across all media.

These services are important for those firms that value outside expertise in identifying key selling points and differentiating their business. Clients value our unparalleled expertise gained in researching and writing countless websites and social media platforms.

Images, Video Production, Audio

Exemplar selects and prepares corresponding images (including video) to communicate your digital marketing, which is an increasingly important aspect of online marketing. Our marketing expertise is essential in crafting scripts and talking points for podcasts and other audio-based media for use in digital marketing. Exemplar also offers video editing or production services (whether for social media or website) for those clients who are using such media to promote their products or services.

“I admit it – I hate writing. But I love how you can interview us, uncover what we should say and then write in a clear and convincing manner. Awesome. And the best use of our time, period.”

Content is KING!

Social Media

Social media has become a necessity in online marketing for most businesses. Whether your business has ever used social media or you are looking to make full use of the platforms you already have, Exemplar Digital Marketing provides expertise in strategically planning your social media campaign and knowing just what to do for your needs.

Strategic Guidance

It is relatively easy to be “busy” in social media -- but much more difficult to be productive. This is where strategic planning is crucial. Our approach is that strategy is essential to success in social media marketing. Exemplar can help clients with:

- Developing goals
- Evaluating target markets and developing contacts
- Positioning products or services
- Building brand awareness and positive perceptions
- Selection of the correct social media platforms
- Creating a comprehensive campaign to consistently reach your audience
- Developing metrics to track results

“Your strategic guidance has been invaluable. We’re on-course to meet our objectives, thanks to you!”

Consistent Implementation

A business cannot just create social media accounts and expect returns. The key is to be active posting relevant content and interacting throughout the year, which will help contacts become more aware of your brand. This in turn can create potential customers who can easily share your business with others. Exemplar’s process includes:

- Plan/calendarize for regular posts
- Draft text content that is customizable to each platform as needed
- Create/procure graphic imagery as needed per various platforms
- Handle all details of posts
- Interactivity: Liking, commenting and sharing.
- Tools to drive traffic back to your website and boost your search rankings in Google

Branding

Branding is the combination of name, words, symbols or design that identifies your company and its products/services and differentiates it from the competition. Exemplar Digital Marketing has extensive experience in designing marketing materials, including logos, stationery, brochures (electronic and print), and websites. We apply our business expertise in strategy, market analysis and in developing effective materials that are professional-looking and bring results.

Our goal is to develop superb marketing pieces that meet your needs, while limiting the use of your valuable time. Toward that end, Exemplar makes the process easy: we consult with you on strategy, research and write the content, handle all aspects of design, and handle final production/publishing.

Logos

We prepare designs based on your company's culture, desired image and targeted market. A recognizable and professional-looking logo can cause instant recognition. Our custom-designed logos are currently being used by numerous companies.

Design

From stationery (electronic and/or print) to marketing collateral pieces (brochures and flyers of all sorts), we can design whatever you need.

Copywriting

We research and write materials specifically tailored for your business and its unique traits.

Internet

Our assistance includes website design, social media, e-newsletters and all other forms of e-communication.

"We love the branding campaign that you did for us! All of the marketing materials are extremely well-written and the graphics are perfect for our firm."

Be different!

E-Communication

Consistent and useful communication with your target market is critical. However, it takes time and you'd likely rather do something else. That's where Exemplar Digital Marketing comes in. We make the process easy! We help develop content, design your campaign and get it done – with as little of your time commitment as possible, freeing you up to run your business.

E-Newsletters, E-Blasts & Announcements

We help develop content, design your e-newsletter and distribute it

Post & Blogs

Exemplar develops simple systems to help with consistent posts and blogs

Advertising

Search engines, banner ads, on-line directories or other techniques

Publicity

Article development and placement, online media relations -- and more!

“The article that you arranged to be published has been out for a few weeks and I just got an engagement as a result. So, a big ‘Thank You’ to you for making that happen. It worked!”
